

ALBEMARLE CLUB ENDS

The Closing Shoot of the Season Yesterday.

MR. PAGE TAKES PRIZES

He Also Succeeded in Capturing the Medal—The Names of Other Winners—The Scores that Were Made.

With ideal weather for out-door sport, coupled with many prize contests, the closing event of the Albemarle Gun Club on yesterday afternoon was attended by a large number of enthusiastic shooters and many visitors. In fact, it was really a red-letter day for the members of this young and promising gun club. Being only about four months old, the club has steadily grown until now it ranks first in point of numbers, of any gun club in the State. The individual work of each shooter during the season has shown vast improvement, the members will now turn their attention to winter sports.

Mr. Luther Page was high gun, and will wear the medal of the club during the ensuing week. He has been high gun for four consecutive weeks, breaking the record of the club. He also won two prizes, a handsome silk umbrella and a box of cigars.

The prize winners are as follows: Class A, prize of one pair of leggings, donated by Harris, Filpenn and Company—won by Mr. Calvin Turner.

Class B, prize of one box of cigars, donated by Mr. Patrick McDonough—won by Mr. Luther Page.

Class C, one quart of whiskey, donated by Mr. A. W. Kosenow—won by Messrs. Witt and R. W. Glasgow.

Class D, one box of cigars, donated by Messrs. and Company—won by Mr. Richard Cary.

Mr. Luther Page won a handsome silk umbrella, donated by Burk and Company, of this city, breaking nineteen clay pigeons out of twenty-five.

The following is the score of yesterday:

	Shot at.	Broke.
Richard Cary	75	31
Roy Cary	50	26
A. W. Browning	50	23

APPLE EXPORT TRADE

Better Packing Would Result in Larger and More Profitable Business.

Mr. Blythe W. Branch, writing from Paris to The Times-Dispatch regarding an editorial which recently appeared in this paper on the prosperous condition of the apple export trade of the United States, encloses the following extract from a letter received by the American Chamber of Commerce:

Our attention has been called to the low prices realized for American apples arriving in European ports, owing to the bad condition in which they are received.

The trade in this article is very seriously hampered by present methods of packing, and we are assured that if this evil were corrected it would result in increased and more profitable business.

At present, apples are packed in barrels for overseas transportation in the most careless manner, no special precautions being taken in view of the very rough handling to which such shipments are exposed. As a result, they arrive in foreign ports in exceedingly bad condition, fully thirty per cent. being lost through bruising and decay.

Those familiar with the trade assert that fully double the present prices could be realized if the apples arrived in proper condition. It is urgently suggested that apples for export be carefully packed in layers, between sheets of suitable protecting material, in such manner that, whilst not being so tightly packed as to produce bruising, all chance of shifting en route will be prevented. At the same time ventilation should be most carefully provided for, and the apples ready to be done by boring holes in the heads and staves of the barrels.

NEWPORT NEWS WAS GOOD TO VETERANS

It is the opinion of all who attended the Confederate Veterans' reunion at Newport News that the people of that bustling city handled every detail most commendably. They were lavish in their expenditure of time and money. They left nothing for the visitors to desire.

A FOOD RESCUE.

What a Physician's Wife Found Out.

The wife of a well known physician of Oakland, Cal., was brought back to health and strength by food alone at a time when she had prepared to die.

She says of her experience: "I am the wife of a physician, and have suffered from catarrh of the stomach more than ten years, during which time I suffered untold agonies of mind and body, for I could not eat solid food, and even liquid foods gave me great distress."

"I was brought at last to confront the crisis of my life. I actually made ready for my departure from friends and husband, for I expected to die. When in that state I was induced to try Grape-Nuts, and the wonderful effects of this food prove completely that all my trouble was due to improper feeding."

"I began to improve immediately and my weight increased until I have gained twenty pounds since I began the use of Grape-Nuts. My stomach is as sound and well as ever it was and my husband gives all the credit for my wonderful recovery to Grape-Nuts. I have no set time for eating Grape-Nuts, but just eat it whenever I please."

"I might tell you everywhere of the marvellous health and strength giving, flesh-building elements of Grape-Nuts. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich."

"Look in each package for a copy of the famous little book, 'The Road to Wellville.'"

GYPSY JACK IS IN DURANCE VILE

Broke His Pledge and Got the Limit on His Own Suggestion.

"Six months in jail at last," muttered Gypsy Jack, as he meandered back to the pen.

"Six months, and it might have been freedom. Freedom like that of the rabbit, who goes forth, only to fall by the wayside from shots."

It was freedom like this, and Jack fell from shots. He was not half shot, and he had promised to go forth to a place where he awaited him. John of trading horses and getting the best of it.

This much he had promised Justice John, and he went forth in Capitol Square and sniffed the breeze like the frisky squirrel. Then he cut loose down Frank Street, and Seal-House Corner, and Captain Shinerberg's men knew him again.

"Six months, sure," said Justice John. And not until the beautiful May days once more show themselves will Gypsy Jack be on deck.

The other cases were not blasé. Persons of convivial habits, with good characters, stood up in lowly mein, and were permitted to elude the rough grasp of the wary Robins, who is always on the alert.

The police will try to have more important cases for Justice John tomorrow.

WARM AND PARTLY CLOUDY FOR TO-DAY

The Weather Bureau here gives out as its forecast for to-day warm and partly cloudy. Little or no rain is expected, and clearing conditions, accompanied by slightly falling temperature, are expected during the afternoon and evening.

Chances appear about even for good weather in most parts of the country for election day, though the director will be able to speak more definitely on this point about to-morrow evening.

OFFICIAL INSPECTION OF ST. ANDREW COMMANDERY

The official inspection of St. Andrew Commandery, No. 13, will take place at the Masonic Temple at 7 o'clock to-morrow evening. The knights will be in full dress uniform, and the affair will be conducted with much fun and ceremony.

The programme is as follows: Assembly for regalia, 7:15; march to Murphy's, 7:45; Commandery opened, 8:30; visitors received, 9:15; official inspection, 9:30; banquet, 10:30.

Delinquent State Taxes.

Treasurer C. H. Phillips is now preparing the list of delinquent taxes for publication, and those who have failed to pay their taxes for 1937 can save the additional expense that will be incurred by paying them now.

FRATERNITY NEWS AND GOSSIP

The Commandery of St. Andrew, No. 13, Knights Templar, will be inspected to-morrow night by Hon. James E. Alexander, of Va., past grand commander of Virginia.

The commandery will assemble at the Masonic Temple at 7 o'clock, and will march to Murphy's, 7:45 to-morrow night, and as a result of his visit the membership of the lodge in the "City by the Sea" will be greatly increased.

The annual memorial services of the Knights of Pythias will be held at the Bijou at 8:30 this afternoon. The full programme will be found on another page of this issue.

The Norfolk Lodge of Elks has just awarded a contract for building an annex to their home. Work will begin at once, and the contract specifies that the building shall be completed on April 24. The annex will be of brick and two stories high. The first floor will be fitted up as a gymnasium and bowling alley, with modern shower baths. The upper story will be used for meeting purposes, and will be an ideal assembly room. The cost of the building, furnishings and apparatus will amount to about $15,000.

Grand Secretary J. B. Blanks, of Petersburg, Va., and Grand Treasurer A. B. Botts, of Fredericksburg, will pay an official visit to Belvidere Council, No. 1122, Royal Arcanum, on the fourth Thursday in this month (Thanksgiving Day).

A committee composed of Michael G. Willis, D. C. A. Mercer, and W. H. Heston, has been appointed to arrange for receiving the distinguished visitors. The programme has not been completed, but will include both musical and literary features, as well as supplying the wants of the "inner man."

A large number of invitations will be issued to members and friends of the council, and the occasion is expected to be a most interesting and enjoyable one.

Belvidere Council, No. 1122, of the most progressive branches of the order in the city, and the members are manifesting much zeal in their successful efforts to increase its membership.

In accordance with the "rules and a custom of the order, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will hold their annual memorial services throughout the country on the first Sunday in December. Richmond Lodge, No. 2, Knights Templar, has arranged to observe this beautiful and impressive ceremony in an appropriate manner, and has appointed a Committee of the Order, consisting of Captain Frank W. Cunningham (chairman), T. G. Leath, Preston Belvin, H. C. Epps and W. S. Daniel. The committee has secured the services of Order of the Eastern Star, Norfolk, to deliver the annual address. His subject will be "The Principles of the Order—Charity, Justice, Brotherly Love and Fidelity." Mr. Venable is an eloquent and magnetic speaker, and is well known in this city. He delivered the annual address at the Elks memorial about four years ago. Admission to the memorial services will be by ticket only, and, judging from the attendance last year, they will be in great demand.

The annual inspection of Richmond Commandery, No. 2, Knights Templar, was held at the Masonic Temple last Tuesday night by Past Eminent Stanley W. Heston, of Danville, Va. The inspection was very largely attended, and at its conclusion a banquet was served.

The Masons of Georgia will have a Masonic Home in the near future. The cornerstone of the home, which will be located in Marietta, Ga., was laid Tuesday with appropriate ceremonies.

Mr. C. W. Todd, of Norfolk, the newly elected State commander of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, is planning to conduct his administration on progressive lines, and will endeavor to secure the assurance of members of the order that they will assist him by organizing new councils, one of which will be instituted in this city.

The new lodge of Masons, which has just been organized here under a special dispensation from the grand master of Virginia, will have its first meeting at 8 o'clock on Wednesday night. The lodge, although it does not follow that its meetings will be held at noon. The regular hour has not yet been decided upon, but it is expected that the lodge will be held at 8 o'clock in the afternoon.

This lodge was organized with an idea of giving an opportunity to those who become members of the order, whose duties prevented them from attending in a lodge at night, such as editors, reporters, and printers, to attend in the day. The lodge will fill a long-felt want, and starts out under auspicious circumstances, with a membership of thirty.

The following are the officers: Worshipful master, F. W. Cunningham; senior warden, O. M. Driscoll; junior warden, W. S. Gill; treasurer, W. N. Watkins; secretary, A. Nease; returned from a hunting trip to Stafford county.

We asked them how much they caught, and Blair Mealy, who was in the bunch when he got into the Auto for a minute and talk it over before a cup of coffee and a "Man About Town" cigar.

Then Joe and his friends looked at each other and their faces relaxed into meaning smiles.

"We hate to say," said one of them, as he contemplated the country mud on his boots.

"The new game laws prohibit us saying a word about it," said Joe, as he picked a clod of earth off his coat sleeve.

"But if you come up to my home I'll show you one of the best game dinners you ever saw."

The conversation lagged, and as we went over to Gonnella's for a coca cola, we told Joe we wouldn't say anything about it, until we got back to Joe's.

EXCELLENT RICHMOND BOOK

Mrs. Burgess Publishes Pamphlet Indispensable to Tourists.

One of the most complete and serviceable guide and souvenir books yet published is that of Mrs. M. A. Burgess, of this city.

The neat cover are found these words: "Multum in parvo," and even a heavy perusal of the little volume will convince one that Mrs. Burgess has succeeded in collecting much useful and interesting information in very little space. Such a publication is absolutely necessary for the stranger who gets to Richmond and instruction from a trip about Richmond that he should.

The booklet is richly illustrated by scenic views of the city and about Richmond, and every fact desirable to the traveler that he may appreciate what he sees is to be found in its covers. The mechanical execution of the work is excellent, and altogether the volume is worthy of a place in every library. The price is most reasonable.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

—BY— Harry Tucker.

If we could only dance like little Bobby Harry we'd be in a position to accept all the invitations we get to go to parties and parlor socials.

But we can't and there is no use carrying a lot of regrets with us, for we can enjoy Bobby's dancing and his acting, and we feel that that alone is worth the price of admission, and we don't say so because Bobby is a friend of ours, as we can prove by hundreds of people who have seen him at the Bijou this evening.

But Bobby isn't the whole show, for a melodrama, with the streets and shops and tenements of New York in it, has to have a villain or two, and Arnold Alexander makes one of the best we ever saw. He is, however, one of the finest fellows in private life we know of, and he is far from being a real villain.

Another thing to make a melodrama successful is the hero, the Johnnie on the spot, who always rushes to the rescue, and Harry De Vere is just as handsome and accomplished a hero on the stage as he is a good fellow off.

All three of these fellows are well got around the supper table at Campbell's last night, and we told them we were going to see them in the play and give them a good time, and they do it, for the Shop Girl is too much after the heart of the people, and is too well acted for us to go into a roast.

Our friend Joe West and some other fellows, whose names we could not remember, have returned from a hunting trip to Stafford county.

We asked them how much they caught, and Blair Mealy, who was in the bunch when he got into the Auto for a minute and talk it over before a cup of coffee and a "Man About Town" cigar.

Then Joe and his friends looked at each other and their faces relaxed into meaning smiles.

FALL WEATHER OFTEN PROVES DANGEROUS TO WOMEN.

Pe-ru-na is a Perfect Catarrhal Tonic. Every Woman Especially Needs Such a Remedy in November.

Decollete Gowns and Catarrh. Pe-ru-na is a Safeguard for the Society Women.

Miss Florence Wayland, in a letter from 1608 Aldrich Ave., Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"I can honestly give Pe-ru-na the highest endorsement, for I have used it and found it has special merit. During the early part of the winter I caught cold, being exposed to a draught at the opera, and the next evening attended a dancing party and caught more cold, and soon found that influenza had me in its iron grip. I was then dosed with liquids, powders and pills, but found no relief until a friend who called brought me a bottle of Pe-ru-na and insisted that I discontinue the use of everything else and give this an honest trial. I did so, and feel very glad indeed that I did. Within ten days I was convalescing and in two weeks I felt myself once more. Pe-ru-na has an honored place in our medicine cabinet at home, and we all take it upon catching the slightest cold."—Florence Wayland.

Catarrh May Attack Any Organ of the Body.

Miss Mary Gray, Walkerville, Ontario, Canada, writes:

"Pen and ink never can tell of the good Pe-ru-na has done for me after several years' suffering from congestive catarrh trouble in my stomach and bowels. I realized the cause had to be removed, and as I had your medicine recommended to me by a friend who had used it, I concluded to try it and found it to fill all the requirements in my case, for a few bottles of it restored me to good health."—Mary Gray.

If Catarrh of the Lungs is Neglected It Often Develops Into Consumption.

Miss Mary Kemker, 44 Rayner St., Cleveland, Ohio, writes:

"I am glad to advise you of the very satisfactory results I have experienced through the use of Pe-ru-na. I contracted a severe cold at an evening party which settled on my lungs most persistently. No medicine helped me until mother gave me Pe-ru-na, which quickly caused a complete change for the better and cured me in three weeks. I have had no bad after effects nor recurrence of the trouble and am truly grateful to you for your wonderful Pe-ru-na."—Mary Kemker.

The society woman is very prone to catch cold during the social season. Low-necked gowns, thin underwear, the abrupt change from the heated ballroom to the bitter outside cold causes innumerable cases of catarrh yearly. They must submit to these exposures, so the society woman especially needs protection in this direction. They should have some tried remedy for colds and coughs at hand to take upon the first symptoms of catching cold.

That Pe-ru-na is exactly such a remedy the accompanying testimonials prove. Pe-ru-na prevents colds by strengthening the mucous membrane; it cures colds by healing the catarrhal mucous membranes. Society women find it a protection and a cure. All classes of women find it invaluable for the many catarrhal derangements of winter.

"Pe-ru-na is indeed a household blessing. Last fall I caught a severe cold, which developed into a most unpleasant catarrh of the respiratory organs, and for over two weeks I could neither enjoy my food nor secure restful sleep. I became nervous and irritable and nothing looked just right to me. A good neighbor advised me to try Pe-ru-na and I immediately secured a bottle. I am very glad indeed that I did. I began to feel relief in a week and soon felt better than I had in two years. I do not dread a cold any more as I used to, for a small quantity of Pe-ru-na cures me."—Margaret Hueston.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

FINE FISH GO TO FACTORIES

Crops of Potatoes and Corn So Far Gathered Turn Out Well.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

HEATHSVILLE, VA., October 31.—The fish factories in the lower part of this county are doing well now. The steamer W. G. Brunster, belonging to Messrs. Snow and Pullin, returned Thursday laden with over four hundred and fifty thousand menhaden fish. Mr. Morris' two steamers also caught all the fish they could handle. The owners of these boats declare that the fish now being caught are the finest that have been seen here for years.

The farmers of this section are now trying to pick a time in which to dig their potatoes, but on account of the weather, which continues to hold bad here, it is almost impossible to pick a time when it is dry enough. Some few crops, however, have been saved, and these are reported to have turned out remarkably well, considering the season.

The farmers are slow in getting their corn in here. Only one crop in this State vicinity has been sown. This, it is reported, turned out twelve barrels to the acre. Should all the corn around here turn out as good as this crop, the farmers will have all the corn they can handle next year.

On Sunday night one of the finest lectures ever heard here was delivered by Rev. J. W. West on the subject of temperance. Monday he held an all-day meeting for the purpose of organizing a State Temperance League.

Miss Mary Thomas, of Bundick, has been visiting friends in Baltimore during the past week.

Miss Almida Crowther, of Avalon, is boarding here and attending the Heathsville Institute.

Mr. J. J. Nelms has returned from Baltimore, where he has been spending some time.

Mrs. Etta Cloughton has returned home from Baltimore, where she has been visiting relations.

PLETHORIC BUCKINGHAM

A Land Blessed With Plenty and Contentment.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

MANTEO, VA., October 31.—The professional politician would have but little sympathy for any arrangement of any party in this section just now.

In the lean years it is the other fellow who has wrought the damage, but this year we are all so well to do that none has cause to complain.

It has not been a bumper year, but the general crop yield has been good, and almost every one has plenty to eat.

The farmers are busy housing their corn, and the fattening of the lowly swine is next. There are lots of acorns and chestnuts, so but a corn will be needed to "make the hog," and consequently cheap meat is evident.</
